This famous old tavern was built by Major Joseph Duncan before the town of Hopewell (Paris) was established and four years before Kentucky became a State. It was the meeting place of the first settlers in the Western wilderness; Daniel Boone, Simon Kenton, James Smith, Michael Stoner and other famous frontiersmen were frequent visitors. Duncan Tavern has been restored under the auspices of the Kentucky Society, Daughters of the American Revolution.

GENUINE CURTEICH-CHICAGO "C.T. ART-COLORTONE" POST CARD REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

POST CARD

PLACE
ONE CENT
STAMP
HERE

Duncan Tavern, Built 1788, Public Square, Paris, Ky.

1B-H1318